INTRODUCTION

The district Dhanbad, the coal capital of India is situated in the eastern part of the state Jharkhand. It was created in year 1956 from the erstwhile Manbhum district of the west Bengal. The district is bounded by Jamtara and Giridih in north, Jamtara and west Bengal in the East, Bokaro and west Bengal in the south and Giridih and Bokaro in the west. The district contributes 3,24,44,470 M. T. of coal and with vast reserve of coking coal found here. The district is situated at a distance of 180 K.M. from the state capital Ranchi and connected with state and national capital through a good network of road (N.H.-2) and railway. The climatic condition of the district is sub-tropical, which comprises of (a) Hot and dry summer season. (b) Humid and warm rainy season. (c) Winter season. The summer season begins from the month of March and ends by the month June. The south east monsoon from Bay of Bengal comes here in the mid of June and frequent moderate to heavy rains occur in the district. Monsoon lasts up to the month of September, August and September receives maximum rainfall in the district. During the rest of the year the weather remains normally dry, with occasional summer rain in the evening. However due to the proximity of the region to the coastal area of the Bay of Bengal, the district gets good annual rainfall of 1150 to 1350 mm. However the maximum rainwater goes off as waste due to excessive run-off. Maximum temperature recorded during summer is 47°C. Due to this the district receives good rainfall and preponderance of forest cover many perennial streams are the districts. The major rivers are Damodar and Barakar, which are perennial. National Food Security Mission:-

The National Development Council (NDC) in its 53rd meeting held on 29th May, 2007 adopted a resolution to launch a Food Security Mission comprising rice, wheat and pulses to increase the annual production of rice by 10 million tonnes, wheat by 8 million tonnes and pulses by 2 million tonnes by the end of the Eleventh Plan (2011-12). Accordingly, a Centrally Sponsored Scheme, 'National Food Security Mission' (NFSM), was launched in October 2007

Skill Training of Rural Youth:-

Skill Training of Rural Youth (STRY) is aimed at imparting skill-based training to rural youth on agri-based vocational areas in agriculture & allied areas to promote employment of rural areas and for creation of skilled manpower to perform farm and non-farm operations. Rural youth of the age group of 18 years and above with minimum qualification up to 5th standard passed (not mandatory) shall be considered for skill training. The Govt. of India has identified about 50 skilling areas spanning Agriculture, Horticulture, Animal Husbandry, Dairy and Fisheries

Soil Health Management (SHM):-

"National Mission for Sustainable Agriculture (NMSA) will be implemented during 12th Plan with the objectives to make agriculture more productive, sustainable and climate resilient; to conserve natural resources; to adopt comprehensive soil health management practices; to optimize utilization of water resources; etc. “Soil Health Management (SHM) is one of the most important interventions under NMSA. SHM aims at promoting Integrated Nutrient Management (INM) through judicious use of chemical fertilisers including secondary and micro nutrients in conjunction with organic manures and bio-fertilisers for improving soil health and its productivity; strengthening of soil and fertiliser testing facilities to provide soil test based recommendations to farmers for improving soil fertility; ensuring quality control requirements of fertilisers, bio-fertilisers and organic fertilisers under Fertiliser Control Order, 1985; upgradation of skill and knowledge of soil testing laboratory staff, extension staff and farmers through training and demonstrations; promoting organic farming practices etc.

Bringing Green Revolution to Eastern India (BGREI):-

The programme of “Bringing Green Revolution to Eastern India (BGREI)” was launched in 2010-11 to address the constraints limiting the productivity of “rice based cropping systems” in eastern India comprising seven (7) States namely; Assam, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Odisha, EasternUttar Pradesh(Purvanchal) and West Bengal

Diploma in Agricultural Extension Services for Input Dealers (DAESI):-

Agri-Input Dealers in the country are a prime source of farm information to the farming community, besides the supply of inputs and credit. However, majority of these dealers do not have formal agricultural education. In order to build their technical competency in agriculture and to facilitate them to serve the farmers better and to act as para – extension professionals, National Institute of Agricultural Extension Management (MANAGE) has launched a self-financed “One-year Diploma in Agricultural Extension Services for Input Dealers (DAESI) Program” during the year 2003 with a course fee of Rs.20, 000/- to the input dealers. Due to positive impact of the program, Ministry of Agriculture & Farmers’ Welfare, Government of India has decided to implement this program for Input dealers in all the States of the country.

Conversion of Fallow land into Cropped Area:-

Total geographical area of Jharkhand is about 79.79 lakhs hectare, out of which 38 lakhs hectare is suitable for Agriculture purposes but only 27 lakhs hectare of land is used for sowing of crop rest 7.63 lakhs hectare of land is current fallow and 4.66 lakhs is other fallow land, to convert these fallow land into cultivable land farmers are assisted by this scheme.

Double cropping rice fallow:-

In our state Jharkhand our Farmers usually practice Mono -cropping system as a result the available soil moisture after harvest of main crop remains unused to increase the cropping intensity and also to use the available soil moisture after harvest of main crop, Conversion of Fallow land into Cropped Area scheme is started in the year 2016- 17 to assist the farmers for sowing the crop like pulses and oilseed.
